

Teaching English to ESOL Learners

English as a Second Language

A Graduate Course

Course Description

With the driving force of English as the world's dominant language, educational systems providing ESOL lessons to young learners have increased worldwide. This course provides an overview of the methodologies, theories and practices to effectively teach English to young learners, K-12. Teachers will learn various applications that they can assimilate and emulate upon return to their classrooms. Additionally, teachers will enhance their cultural insights by understanding differences and sociological factors that contribute to a successful teaching and learning experience.

Course Materials

The required textbook for this course is Teaching Language Arts to English Language Learners (Teaching English Language Learners Across the Curriculum), written by Annette Vasquez, Angela L. Hansen, and Philip C. Smith, copyright 2013. Using this text, educators will learn specific strategies to utilize within the classroom. Teachers will be able to modify their curriculum, so that it's culturally appropriate, and learn methods and helpful strategies within all ESOL components.

Curriculum Design & Time Requirements

This is a forty-five hour, three credit graduate level course completed over two weekends or five consecutive days.

Course Objectives

At the conclusion of the course, the student will be able to:

1. Compare the language principles of phonology, morphemic analysis and English semantics as they relate to language acquisition.
2. Compare the sociolinguistic language functions of social and regional varieties of American English.
3. Examine sociolinguistic principles that have influenced the development of the English language.
4. Determine historical processes that have influenced the development of the English language.
5. Relate instructional, meta-cognitive, cognitive and socio-affective strategies that promote second language acquisition.
6. Identify features of the natural approach, total physical response and communicative approaches for various proficiency levels.

7. Explore current research and evidence based practice that contributes to the field of second language teaching and learning.
8. Match instructional approaches with language learning theories.

Session Outline

Session 1: Characteristics of a Young Language Learner

Content:

- What defines a young language learner
- What defines an ESOL teacher
- Defining ESOL
- Child social, intellectual and physical development
- Assignments/What ESOL means to you; create a sample lesson

Session Two: Theories and Applications

Content:

- Chomsky's Theory
- Krashen's learning acquisition process
- Pinker's Study
- Historical processes
- Principles and theories of second language acquisition
- Major contributors to second language teaching
- Identify instructional approaches with theories
- Assignments: Create an activity related to a specific theory

Session Three: Language Acquisition

Content:

- Cortes Contextual Interaction Model
- Learning another language
- Principles of language learning
- Teacher and student attitudes
- Intercultural orientation
- Trends and issues related to learning a second language
- Assignment: Identify an issue and formulate a solution

Session Four: Linguistics

Content:

- The English language
- Sociolinguistic principles related to the development of the English language

- Teaching intonation and accent training
- An overview of Morphology and phonology principles
- Defining semantics, pragmatics, syntax and discourse
- Assignment: Create an activity designed to promote word recognition

Session Five: Cultural Awareness

Content:

- Understanding cultural differences
- Promoting cultural sensitivity
- Social differences and principles
- Defining cultural boundaries
- Effective parental and student communication
- Assignment: Cultural role-play. Also, respond in written form how you would react to a specific cultural situation (provided by instructor).

Session Six: Types of Learning Processes

Content:

- CLT Approach
- PPP Approach
- The Silent Way Approach
- The Grammar Translation Approach
- The Natural Approach
- Total Physical Response (TPR)
- Assignment: Create an exercise depicting one of the above approaches, and apply it within the classroom

Session Seven: Methodologies

Content:

- Overview of ELT approaches and methods within the classroom
- Using play, drama, stories and games
- Integrating the students' native language within activities
- Instructional strategies and techniques
- Assignment: Create an activity ascribing to one of these applications

Session Eight: Speaking, listening and reading skills

Content:

- Basic curriculum design
- Teaching speaking, listening and reading skills
- Implementing speaking, listening and reading exercises
- Assignment: Create an activity designed to target these skills

Session Nine: Grammar and Writing skills

Content:

- Teaching grammar skills: Sentence structure
- Teaching writing skills
- Implementing these skills within the classroom
- Assignment: Create an activity designed to target these skills

Session Ten: Additional Resources/Final exam

Content:

- Overview of resources and suggested websites
- Final exam (lesson plan) including the four major components: listening, speaking, reading and writing

Points		Grading Scale
Class Participation	24	104-96	A
Assignments	40	95-88	B
Lesson Plan	40	87-80	C
Total Points	104

1. Participation: Actively participate in all activities.
2. Reading assignments: Complete all readings, talking point and reflection assignments.
3. Students are required to put the assessment strategies and concepts into action and to construct a lesson plan as their final project.

Student Academic Integrity

Participants guarantee that all academic class work is original. Any academic dishonesty or plagiarism (to take ideas, writings, etc. from another and offer them as one's own), is a violation of student academic behavior standards as outlined by the Teacher Education University catalog and is subject to academic disciplinary action.

